

CCP0004

Features

Cabin Control Panels of the CCP-series are used to control complete cabin management systems aboard an aircraft.

The CCP0004 is a touch sensitive panel for cabin crew interaction. It displays cabin related information, supports system maintenance functions and enables the user to control any function within the cabin. The user interface can easily be adapted to any customer request. Various designs are available or can be created.

- + Control panel touch screen based
- + Features
 - + Call display and call management
 - + General lighting
 - + Switches and control
 - + White and RGB lighting control
 - + Optional: integration of customised features
- + 28 V DC supply voltage

